

I want to thank all the people that supported the Saskatoon Dad in his fight for his son.

Justice was not served in our family court.

A drunk driver killed the Saskatoon Dad; he left us as a 'hero'.

I sincerely hope that justices will be served in the criminal court of law.

I not only lost a son, but also a grandson, a grandson that will find his real family when he is old enough.

The Saskatoon Dad would have set a precedent for other dad's fighting for their children. He was determined not to give up his fight.

I have been promised that inquiries will be done as to:

- How and why the baby left the hospital, without the dad's consent?
- Why the dad wasn't informed when the mother knew all along whom the father was?
- Why social services were not involved, and knew nothing about the custodial agreement?
- How a judge that was never an expert in family law decide on a family court case?
- How a person can lie on an affidavit and get away with it?
- How a person can get occurrence numbers, and reference numbers from the police station, when they tell me that police are not allowed to give out this information, to anyone. Where is the confidentiality?
- What happened to the closing arguments that were not included in the court transcripts, someone had to stop them from being included, who and why?

I have lots of questions that I need answers to and I promise you, I will not stop until my questions have been answered.
